

Unlock your talent, fulfil your potential...

Apply at www.fue.es/eacampus

Become a localization tester and join one of the world's leading videogame companies!

EA wants to invest in your future by preparing you for your entry onto the job market, and give you the opportunity to join the professionals.

EA is launching the third edition of "EA Campus", a five-weeks intensive training programme that combines in-house training at Electronic Arts and professional skills training at Universidad Francisco de Vitoria.

- 34 places available
- Where: Madrid
- When: 21st April to 22nd May 2014
- Schedule: 11:00 AM to 18:00 PM (one-hour lunch break)
- It is mandatory to attend training full-time on Friday (8 hours) for 3 of the 5 weeks.
- Total grant: €450 gross
- Diploma of Continued Training awarded by Universidad Francisco de Vitoria

Do you enjoy working as part of a team? Are you looking for an experience in an international environment? If the answer is yes and you fulfill the set requirements, we'd like to meet you!

- Age: over 18 years
- High-School Degree
- Languages: Fluency in English and mother tongue in one of the following:

Brazilian (Portuguese from Brazil), Czech, Danish, Dutch, French, German (from Germany or Austria), Hungarian, Italian, Mexican (Spanish from Mexico), Norwegian, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish (from Spain), Swedish.

The best candidates that successfully complete the training course could be offered a temporary position as an LT Tester.

Deadline for application: 28th March 2014

Don't miss this opportunity! Apply at www.fue.es/eacampus
Become part of the EA universe through EA CAMPUS 2014!

