

Karriere machen und Spaß haben.

Studentjob as a Translator for Italian natives (m/f)

You are searching for a lucrative job during your semester break and the opportunity to remain in the company as a working student? On behalf of our client we are looking for a translator for our website who speaks Italian fluently. Our client is a young international-oriented company located in the heart of Berlin. The company is a fast growing internet startup, specialized in comparing vacation rentals. This start-up is about to expand internationally and therefore we invite you to become part of an exciting multinational team.

Your profile:

- You study Communication science or another relevant subject in Berlin
- You have fun with composing different texts
- You speak Italian fluently with a good understanding of German and/or English
- Ideally you have experiences with working for a newspaper or a magazine

Our client offers:

- Flat hierarchies and a nice working atmosphere
- Young, dynamic, international team and a motivating environment
- A modern workplace in the heart of Prenzlauer Berg in Berlin
- The chance to work as a working student after a successful start
- Attractive Salary

Start: As soon as possible

Duration: circa 5 weeks

Position: Full time

Be part of this team! We are looking forward to receive your application by email to jobs@careerteam.de. Your contact person is Tabea Zellmer. We are looking forward to hearing from you.

This job does not suit you? No Problem! Check out our website www.careerteam.de. We are always looking for new talents, professionals and digital experts and have most likely a suitable position for you!