

Unilever

Unilever Webinar Series is a thriving learning experience for current and prospective graduates from European Universities who want to take on tomorrow's challenges. If you really want to know what leadership is all about and if you see yourself as a future leader, the Unilever Webinar Series is a great way to start.

You'll have the chance to interact with other participants from many different countries through "Opinion Space", a first of its kind tool specially designed to bring you the answers you really want about the future challenges of Fast-Moving Consumer Goods (FMCG) in the European context. It's time to take on: lead the debates with your opinion, and rate and comment on other participant's statements.

Finally, take part in an exclusive online Webinar delivered by one of our outstanding Senior Leaders and where the issues and statements raised at Opinion Space will be addressed

WEBINAR No.1 LEADING BUSINESS SUSTAINABLY

"At the Unilever Webinar Series, you'll find all the answers that you've been looking for.

Would you join me?"
